

Keney Park Golf Course welcomes Northeast Performance Institute's golf coaching, teaching, and instruction programming

HARTFORD, Conn. (April 29, 2020) – Area golf enthusiasts can now enjoy some of the most comprehensive and technology advanced golf improvement programming minutes from the State's Capital city.

The Connecticut Section, PGA of America (PGA), is excited to announce and introduce Northeast Performance Institute (NPI) as the Golf Instruction and Teaching service providers for Keney Park Golf Course in 2020.

NPI and their team of multiple golf coaches, physical therapist, and mindset professionals provide a truly comprehensive development environment with a pathway to enjoy golf for a lifetime. NPI is led by TrackMan Master, TPI Certified, and PGA Professional Golf Coach Peter Egazarian. Joining Peter on the team at Keney Park initially in 2020 are PGA Professionals Dennis Coscina and Evan Lambert.

Aside from the new Keney Park location, the team operates at facilities in Portland and Southington in conjunction with Chris Cote's Golf Shop.

NPI will be offering fun and safe youth programming and private coaching. Adults will be provided an opportunity to take private lessons, enroll in coaching programs, or free beginner classes for those new to the game. Along with lesson packages, NPI will be offering one day events focusing on the physical and conceptual aspects of the game as well as the mindset and conceptual aspects of the game to further guide a player's development.

Moving through this difficult time and into the future, the safety of the players and team members are the absolute priority. The team is working through safety protocols for the coaches and players and will be following the guidance of the CDC and other science-based agencies. These policies will continually be communicated to all players and coaches.

The start date of coaching and programs will become clearer in the coming weeks and updates will be provided through the appropriate channels.
